

I. READING

As a child in Spain, Juan Fernandez wanted to be a footballer. That was before he broke his foot playing football on the school pitch in Madrid at the age of fifteen. He is still a great fan of Real Madrid. After the accident, he decided to become an actor. He went to acting school, which he enjoyed more than his old school. But after only a year there, he was offered work at the National Theatre and he left the school without getting his diploma.

At the theatre he met film-maker Antonio Garcia who invited him to act in a film called 'Camarero'. Antonio's film was watched in many other countries, and soon film-makers in Hollywood wanted to meet the good-looking young actor.

Juan's first acting job in Hollywood was very interesting for him because he spoke no English at the time. He learned to pronounce his words perfectly for the film 'The King', but when they made the film, he had no idea at all what any of them meant. The film was a big hit, and so was Juan.

He then decided to learn some English. Because he was never good at languages as a child, he went back to school. Since then Juan has made nine films in English which have all been big hits.

Although Juan is very busy, he enjoys his career in Hollywood and has a big house there, which he loves. But he would like to return to the musical theatre in Europe now and again to practise what he learnt at acting school. He would like to show people that he's still a good singer!
