The Beatles

In 1957 a Liverpool schoolboy, John Lennon, started a 'rock and roll' group. The other members were Paul McCartney, George Harrison, Stuart Sutcliffe and Pete Best. They called it The Quarrymen.

In August 1960, they went to Hamburg in Germany and worked hard every night in the clubs. When the group returned to Liverpool, Stuart and Pete left and Ringo Starr joined and they changed the name to The Beatles. John, George and Paul played rhythm, lead and bass guitars. Ringo played the drums. The Beatles started their career at the Cavern Club in Liverpool in 1961. Brian Epstein, a local record shop owner saw them and soon became their manager. He gave The Beatles a new image - the famous suits and haircut.

In 1962, The Beatles made a record with the producer George Martin. Their first records were great hits in the UK. In 1964, they visited the United States. The Americans loved them and The Beatles became famous very fast.

The Beatles worked perfectly as a team. They had different personalities and abilities but they were great friends. The Beatles were very talented. John and Paul wrote songs quickly and easily. George was a songwriter, too. Ringo did not play the drums fantastically but the others were very good musicians. George and John played the guitar well and Paul was a fine bass guitarist. John and Paul were the lead singers but all The Beatles

In 1967, they went to India and became followers of the Maharishi Mashesh Yogi. From about 1968, things went badly with the group. The Beatles changed slowly from a group to four individuals with different interests. In 1970, they split up and started their own successful solo careers. The Beatles were the world's first international pop group and Lennon and McCartney were the best song-writing team of the twentieth century. John was shot in New York in 1980 and George died in 2001. Paul McCartney (77 years old) and Ringo Starr (79) are still active musicians.
