Festivals from around the world

In August, thousands of people in Buñol, Spain celebrate the festival of La Tomatina. The festival begins with fireworks and a parade. Later, people stand in the streets and throw tomatoes at their friends and neighbours. They throw about 125.000 kilos of tomatoes! It's great fun!

Every year in February or March, people in Venice, Italy celebrate the Carnival. They wear fantastic costumes and masks and have colourful parades in the narrow streets of the city. There are parties all around the city, and people dance and sing in the streets. One of the biggest parties is in St. Mark's Square. You can go to the square and celebrate with thousands of people.

In Vietnam in September or October, people celebrate Trung Thu, the festival of the moon. On this day, children carry beautiful lanterns through the streets. They also wear colourful masks and eat traditional moon cakes. Moon cakes are special rice cakes, and they're delicious!

Thousands of people watch the Rio Carnival every spring. Performers wear colourful costumes and dance to samba music. Other people ride on spectacular floats. It lasts for three days. Don't miss the samba schools' parade! Children make special costumes and floats for this event. After the parade, children win prizes for the best floats and costumes.

You can eat delicious food at the carnival, too. There's a lot of fruit and great Brazilian coffee!

The Notting Hill Carnival is in London in August. More than a million people enjoy two days of great fun. Children wear beautiful costumes and ride on fantastic floats. You can listen to all kinds of music at the festival. Calypso is a very popular music from the Caribbean, but there are also a lot of great pop bands.
