Festive Fruit

From apples and oranges to watermelons and grapes, our world is full of fabulous fruit and every year all over the world there are amazing fruit festivals.

Lebanon Strawberry Festival

The Lebanon Strawberry Festival takes place in Ohio every year in May and June and lasts four days. There is a huge parade of floats and horses and people eat the largest shortcake in the world with strawberries and whipped cream. Anyone can compete in the Strawberry Run race and girls can participate in the contest for the Strawberry Queen. It's lots of fun.

Tontitown Grape Festival

Tontitown, situated in Arkansas, USA, has had a grape festival every August since 1899 when Italian people brought grape vines there. The festival lasts five days and is a great way to celebrate their Italian past. During the festival people stomp on grapes to make juice. Everyone should try grape ice cream, it's delicious. There is also a funfair with rides. It's a fantastic festival.

Chinchilla Watermelon Festival

The Chinchilla Watermelon Festival has been held in February every second year since 1994. Lots of people come to take part in it. They all enjoy themselves a lot. There are lots of fun events such as watermelon eating competitions and watermelon skiing, where people must use watermelons for skis. They also have a street parade and lots of live music. The highlight of the festival is the watermelon seed spitting competition. Chinchilla is a town in Queensland, Australia.

Kiwi Festival

Come and celebrate this delicious fruit in the beautiful and quaint village of Haenertsburg, South Africa, at the annual Kiwi festival. This event will be an awesome experience for the whole family. Loads of fun over the two days will include tours of the kiwi fruit farm, tastings of kiwi fruit as well as talks on how kiwi fruit is grown and its fascinating history (Do you know the fruit originally came from China via New Zealand?).

Don't forget to join in the outdoor cooking competition. Contestants will be given a bag of ingredients, including kiwi fruit, and they must prepare a dish in 2 hours. This is great fun to watch and even more fun to taste!
